LAST NIGHT at the THEATERS

Richard Dix at Marion

RICHARD DIX, in "Seven Keys to Baldpate" at the Marion is one of the most entertaining thrillers in the way of mystery stories that has visited Marion in weeks. The plot is one that holds attention of the audience, and the dramatic ability of the cast contributes generously to the success of the show.

Dix, under wager of $5,000, goes to Baldpate to write a novel in 24 hours. The audience sees him receive the "only" key to Baldpate, a huge inn, and then watches six other persons, some of the criminals, produce keys and gain entrance to the inn. Money in the sum of $200,000 is involved, and in the midst of crooks double-crossing crooks, a woman is killed. The crooks try to make Richard appear to be the murder, but —the show's worth seeing just to see how Richard clears himself of the murder, marries a woman whom the audience sees as another man's wife, and write his novel in time to win the wager.

Two short features complete the Marion bill. R. B.

The Stars Say—

For Tuesday, June 24

The sidereal operations for this day assist to a fair degree of good fortune, with recognition of favors for those in the employment of others and a fair promise of advancement and financial stability for those following in the beaten path. There is little encouragement, however, for new undertakings or for success with large corporations or secret societies. Personal activities may be lively and pleasant.

Those whose birthday it is are under a fairly auspicious forecast for promotion, recognition or increase of moneys or business, providing they adhere to established lines, as new undertakings are under a discouragement sign. The year may be a happy and socially active one. A child born on this day may have many talents and social accomplishments fitting it for success in employment and for a generally successful and prosperous life.

ROOSEVELT TO GIVE CONFERENCE TALK

N. Y. Executive One of Principal Speakers on Governors' Meeting Program.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, June 24—An address by Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York, on the unemployment situation and old age pension legislation will feature the twenty-second annual governors' conference, which convenes here June 30 for a three-day session.

Elaborate plans are under way for the entertainment of the state executives.

Public lands, prison problems, unemployment, old age pensions, national bank taxation, national forest resources, the public domain situation, and other questions of national moment will take up the time of the governors during the three-day sessions.

The entertainment program will be climaxed by a trip through the scenic region of southern Utah.

The governors' conference was inaugurated in 1909 by Theodore Roosevelt. He called the chief executives of the nations into meeting following the economic and industrial crisis of 1907. The conference has since been held annually, at which time the governors exchange ideas and views on administrative and legislative subjects.

The business sessions will open here at the state capitol on June 30, when Governor George H. Lern of Utah, and Mayor John F. Bowman of Salt Lake City will deliver addresses of welcome, to which Governor Doyle E. Carleton of Florida, will respond.

Commissioners Grant Extension to Ditch

Petitions for extensions on the W. H. Holverstott ditch in Marion and Claridon townships were granted by county commissioners at a hearing yesterday in the courthouse. The extensions were sought by Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Thomas and C. W. and Essie Seckel.

Commissioners continued the final hearing on the main project until Dec. 10 and County Surveyor Cecil R. Leavens was instructed to make a revision of the original assessments. He was also instructed to draw plans, specifications and estimates on the extensions.

147 WORKMEN HURT HERE LAST MONTH

Number Is 10 Above Mark Set During April; One Is Disabled Permanently.

Industrial accidents in Marion in May numbered 147, a margin of 10 over accidents in April, according to figures compiled by the state division of safety and hygiene.

One of the accidents resulted fatally as compared with no fatal accidents in April. Total loss of time from May accidents was 1,050 days, whereas time loss for April accidents was only 743 days.

One accident in May resulted in one permanent disability, twenty-three others incurred loss of more than seven days. Fifteen caused loss of seven days or less and 107 caused no time loss but necessitated medical treatment.

The fact that only 47 per cent of fatalities occurred in six large cities representing 60 per cent of all accidents of the month is seen by Thomas P. Kearns, of the division of safety and hygiene, as an indication that organized safety effort is resulting in fewer accidents of a serious nature.

Street Conditions Here and Abroad

Dr George A Soper president of the New York City public health committee has expressed himself as amazed at the revolution which has been effected in European street cleaning methods since the World war holding that it far surpasses anything he deemed possible

Dr Soper was the sole American representative at the seventeenth annual convention of German street sanitation officials which was held in Stuttgart Germany and attended by delegates from fifteen nations

Municipal street cleaning, as now practiced in modern European cities the doctor declares is no longer haphazardly performed but a scientific work calling for well planned organization trained men efficient equipment and expert direction He reports that he was especially interested in the up to date street sweeping washing and drying machines some driven by electricity and some by gasoline shown at the convention and the wagons used for the dustless and odorless collection of garbage—a science which has been developed to an unusually high point in Germany and he cites Stuttgart itself as one of the best exhibits at the convention where the up to date methods pursued has worked for economy the cost being much lower than that of the old There is practically no litter whatever he says in the Stuttgart streets and parks an accomplishment due to the cooperative effort of the public and the city authorities The conditions throughout the city are sanitary and wholesome

Dr Soper went to Europe to study street cleaning as practiced there and naturally his observations were more comprehensive than those of the average American traveling in Europe but it is the exceptional American traveler in Europe who has not been impressed by the cleanliness of the streets not only of her great population centers but also of her small cities villages and hamlets And it is the exceptional American no matter how strong his love for his home land who can return to America and escape a mental comparison of the condition of the streets abroad and those over which he is traveling There are American cities with clean streets it is true but they are the exception while over in Europe cities with clean streets are the rule

There is no country on the face of the earth where the cost of municipal government is so high as here in America and there is no country under civilized government where municipalities get so little in return for money expended

Division of Opinion

There is a manifest division of profession al opinion in regard to tonsil appendix operations

Speaking before the division of clinical medicine of the American Institute of Homeopath in Atlantic City last week Dr Walter Gray Crump of New York City frankly criticized what he called the eagerness with which some surgeons operate on the tonsils and the appendix He said that the practice has been carried to such extremes that the profession had lost its balance

If the mucous membrane is kept intact the doctor contended you are safe from infection It is a blessed fact that you build up a locality against infection Experience shows that there must be something in the individual which prevents infection!

After making the statement that all of our cities of any size have their water saturated with chlorine so we have a general persistence of upsetting the gall bladders a statement at which should be of exceptional local interest just at present the doctor continued

I go into so many hospitals where they can not do anything for other patients because they are busy taking out tonsils There is a stream of victims for the knife and most of them are children I call it the slaughter of the innocents

The New York doctor's contentions were warmly combatted especially his conclusions regarding the wisdom of removing tonsils a large element of the gathering apparently being in sympathy with the position taken by Dr William Diebel of Detroit who held that the removal of tonsils had saved more lives than it had ever lost

The average citizen may figure that humanity's situation is a desperate one when the professional men who have trained themselves to keep it well or restore it to health when it is ill are unable to agree regarding the proper method of procedure when they are not as one regarding what is right and what is wrong But certainly humanity is not in so bad a situation as it would be if were there agreement on the method and that method wrong Expressed doubts often prove valuable Especially is this true when they lead to investigation and experimentation which develop facts The same may be said of reckless contentions and wild charges Investigation pursued for the purpose of refuting them often develops facts which in some cases cause the discarding of erroneous theories In some cases prove accepted theories true and not infrequently facts thus established lead to the development of knowledge of far greater import to humanity than the matter in controversy

There would be mighty little improvement mighty little development in this old world of ours were all of us of one mind and content so to remain In fact that would mean the end of progress It is because all men have not been content to remain passive that we have come as far as we have The man who occasionally rises and hurls a brickbat at accepted theories often proves a great benefactor to his fellow men

LAST FRENCH SOLDIER LEAVES GERMANY.

Editorial Opinion

THE RECORD OF CONGRESS

The second session of the seventy first congress is drawing to a close July 1 is the date now advanced as the time of adjournment by the Republican leaders of both senate and house The passage of the river and harbor bill yesterday coupled with an agreement which looks to an early vote on the World war veterans pension bill now pending in the senate has given hope to the jaded legislators that they will be able to wind up the business of the session and get away

The members of the house and one third of the membership of the senate must stand for reelection in November Many of the sitting members have still to run the gantlet of the primary with aspiring opponents ready to snatch the nominations for congressional office if they can The contestants for renomination and reelection must stand before the voters on the record which they have made in the special session called last April and in the regular session now about to close

The seventy first congress up to date has had a stormy career with conflicts between the two houses and more especially with conflicts between the senate and the President In the main the house has backed the President and together they have overridden the senate This was true in the case of the farm relief bill now a law and it was true also in connection with the tariff bill although many of the senate amendments to that measure were acceptable to the chief executive Whether the seventy first congress will reassemble next December in more chastened mood or more ready to defy the lead of the Hoover administration will depend to a great extent upon the outcome of the elections in November Dire predictions have been made by the opponents of the administration They claim that the voters will register their emphatic displeasure with the administration with legislation it has sponsored and with conditions generally when they go to the polls next November The campaign however has still to be waged

The people have still to assay the legislation enacted by congress They have still to weigh the acts of the Hoover administration If the Democratic opponents and the Republican insurgents who have attacked the administration are to be credited the judgment of the voters will be adverse But that is largely campaign talk speeches that may be used in the coming political contest and sent through the mails free of charge under the members frank The voters will wish to know whether the new tariff bill has actually increased the cost of living or whether it has aided American farmers and American industry They will in all probability decide for themselves Much will depend upon whether conditions improve economically during the next three months in this country

Another matter the people may help to determine when they go to the polls is whether the congress or the President is the more popular or unpopular It would be more correct to limit the decision to the President and the senate for the house has followed the lead of the administration consistently The opposition to the President among members of his own party in the senate has been the cause of most of the trouble Some of these Republican insurgents were opponents of Mr Hoover long before he was nominated and elected Others turned upon him during the special session of congress and have grown more bitter because of the split that arose between themselves and the White House

The record is largely written Upon that record the members of the congress must stand or fall The President has not yet completed half his term of office and the judgment of his party and of the voters generally upon his administration will not be rendered for another two years It is quite true however that the course of the administration will be aided or made more rough by the result of the congressional elections A swing to the opposition which would put the Democrats in power in either house of congress would have the effect of making it impossible for the administration to obtain favorable action on many of its projects—Washington Star June 21

Child Health Education

BY ROYAL S COPELAND M D

During the last quarter of a century there has been a growing appreciation of the importance of child health and child welfare The science and art of caring for the infant has been developed to a great extent More recently much interest has been centered about the care of the child too young to go to school

National consciousness has been aroused to the need of health and education for the child We have learned this must be looked after in the home in elementary and high school and on up through college In preparing for the World war thousands of young men were rejected on the grounds of being physically unfit This taught us a salutary lesson

Significant changes have been taking place in many schools in the country It has been found health protection and education go hand in hand

No more important and far reaching plan for public health service has been presented than that given some weeks ago under the auspices of the White House conference on child health and protection Dr Thomas D Wood chairman of the committee on the school child has stated the program of work outlined By this very child of the nation is to have an equal opportunity for keeping and gaining the best health of which they are capable—health of body health of mind health of character—in short health of the entire personality

Under such a plan as presented daily health work in the schools would mean daily health inspection This will be made by a corps of trained teachers and nurses in co operation with the home the family physician the clinics and hospitals

Elaborate plans for the nation's public school systems will in time no doubt result in adequate healthful school buildings which shall be health centers The up to date school affords a healthful environment for the nation's future citizens

With periodic health examinations for every child dental inspection and treatment once or twice a year health instruction all promoted in the school as a health center—such a project is indeed a wonderful plan Great things will come of it I pray it may succeed

A healthy child lives acts and learns in an atmosphere created by the joy of living

The cooperation of the home the school nurse and physician is needful in this larger plan of education Every parent and every teacher should be a health teacher and by example and precept direct children under their care to sensible health habits and health knowledge—Copyright 1930 Newspaper Feature Service Inc

Still at Sea

BY O O McINTYRE

On the S S Europa June 21—Along with the honorable passenger list there is a sprinkling of the notorious Tense and ill at ease sweeping through companionways I have suddenly looked up in the breathless eyes of Harry K Thaw who with his two bodies of body guard seems to be all one Siamese twin bot

He darts here and there like the quick rush of a sea bird tops quickly and indulges in his turkey gobble laugh There are many who do not care to be on the same ocean with the Pittsburgh eccentric let alone the same liner However he seems so far well mannered and quite inoffensive

Among passengers too is the internationally celebrated and orchideous lady whom I vowed not to mention in these columns for some time to come Each marries the captain in the middle of the ocean it will make a sucker of me again But as some comic has said that is life!

Edna Ferber is aboard and at lunch today sent note to her table reading Dear Miss Hurst I am one of your admirers having read your Lummox twice She smiled and waved and I may become the life of the ocean party yet what with my jooking and carrying on that way I'm a caution ed

Incidentally I counted seven copies of Miss Ferber's Cimarron among book reading voyagers today Charlie Murray the movie comedian is making his first trip abroad with his wife daughter and son in law At the age when most performers are through he is at the top of the heap and going strong

Adele Astaire dancer is a delightful passenger as are Henry and Ann Sothern Mortimer Schiff Ray Goetz and quite a large assortment of Mr and Mrs Goldbergs There are also three gentlemen in an alcoholic haze who amuse me vastly They march prison fashion to the bar every fifteen minutes singing the Maine Stein song

Passengers have settled down to ship routine We fall naturally into leisurely dressing petit dejeuner and joining those siestaed in reclining chairs or walking the vibrating deck They asked me among others to auction the pool today but I passed the buck to Charlie Murray who is still in hiding

There is one always something vogue alluring and mysterious in watching the sea at night In the moonlight from a promenade deck Here and there the restless waves are fluted with a spray of phosphorescent green Overhead puffs of white cloud float lazily between stars Far away is the nebulous outline of a tramp bound for God knows where One looks out at the vast expanse and somehow feels at grips with the unknowable—a clinched observation but it is that feeling that is the true miracle of the sea

The lady — whose name I hope not to mention—drifted imperiously into the bar at cocktail time this evening She was in pastel blue that matched the delicate cornflower blue of her eyes Her only jewel was a diamond the size of a postage stamp on a finger of the right hand She sipped at a green mint which somehow strikingly blended with the ensemble Her gaze had the studied indifference of the actress who knows she is being admired She is a gorgeously beautiful creature in her upholstered sinking way and if she keeps on dazzling us I might mention her initials yet

My objection to these fast stepping boats on the Atlantic run is they wear you out with entertainment It is a gallop from gangplank to gangplank The expert voyager does not even engage deck chair space He wants only a promenade and his cabin

Joseph Priestley.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON

America will always take a deep interest in the life and scientific achievements of Joseph Priestley It is said that Benjamin Franklin started Priestley a Dissenting minister of advanced opinions upon his career

In 1795 Priestley followed to America a son who had recently emigrated thither Northumberland Pennsylvania he built an excellent house three stories in height with two wings—one a laboratory the other a kitchen It stands today virtually unchanged and in 1919 became the property of Pennsylvania State college through the gift of George Gilbert Pond then dean of the college

A fireproof museum built on the lawn of the Priestley homestead houses all the books and apparatus which could be collected belonging to Priestley This Priestley property is now vested in a board of trustees consisting of appointees of the Pennsylvania state college the American Chemical society the American Philosophical society and the Pennsylvania Historical society

Joseph Priestley repaid the debt to America through Franklin's influence by exerting an important influence in turn upon American science In 1874 a small group of American chemists gathered at the Priestley homestead to commemorate through appropriate memorial exercises the one hundredth anniversary of the discovery of oxygen It is a noteworthy fact that as the result of correspondence following this meeting the American Chemical society was founded Its first meeting was held on April 6 1876

The museum which serves as a repository of Priestley's library and apparatus was appropriately dedicated on September 5 1929 Some 900 chemists from all over the world assembled at Northumberland and upwards of forty descendants of Priestley were likewise present It was a simple but memorable tribute to the discovery of oxygen whose name is permanently inscribed in the history of science

Joseph Priestley was born at Fieldhead near Leeds England on March 13 1733 the son of a woolen cloth dresser He attended a Nonconformist academy at Daventry after having through a course of study at a grammar school About 1755 he became a Dissenting minister and preached at various churches until 1761 In 1762 he was married to Anna the daughter of Isaac Wilkinson a Wrexham ironmaster

Priestley was a prolific writer being the author of various religious and scientific works Early in his career he attended chemistry lectures at various colleges and carried on scientific experiments in his own home As a result of his scientific work he was honored with election as a Fellow of the Royal Society of England in 1766 and four years later a foreign associate of the French Academy of Sciences

There is much of simple eloquence in Priestley's description of the discovery of oxygen in the treatise published in 1775 entitled

From Experiments and Observations on Different Kinds of Air He obtained the air or oxygen gas by means of a lens from oxide of mercury and found that a mouse could breathing the gas became very lively Priestley records that on breathing the gas he felt a strong exhilaration He predicted the melting of platina by this gas its salutary treatment for the lungs and gave warning of the danger of its use by healthy people

It is noteworthy says Pauline G Beery Stuff that every possible use of oxygen which Priestley mentioned in his first paper has since become common —Copyright 1930 International Feature Service Inc

Facts can be applied in any field Of course is ignorance Facts are our scarce raw material This is shown by the economy with which we use them One has to go deep for them because they are as difficult to get as they are precious to have I shall be happy if we can substitute the calm judgment of the investigator for the blatant exploitation of the politicians

Prepare for Reducing Exercises With Routine

BY JOSEPHINE HUDDLESTON

Although the shoulders seem an awfully long way from the hips and thighs the intricate muscle structure of the body is such that we must never go in for any routine without first doing at least one gentle, but generally stimulating and loosening, exercise to prepare all of the muscles for the work that is to come. Otherwise sprains or strains are apt to result. Therefore the first exercise in the hip and thigh routine is the same as the first one in the waist and abdomen series.

Hip and Thigh Routine

For the benefit of those who missed the previous articles I'll have to repeat the mechanics of the exercise. Take the erect standing position, heels about three inches apart, toes pointing straight ahead and the upper part of the body drawn to its full height. The arms should be extended in front of the body on an even line with the shoulders, palms turned down. Inhale while swinging the arms as far back as you can. Exhale while bringing them forward again. Inhale while raising the arms high over the head, exhale while lowering them to original position. Repeat until the arms have been swung back ten times and raised high over the head ten times.

Exercise 2—Yes. It's the old familiar SQUAT and hard as it is to do at first it's marvelous when it comes to trimming down and firming the muscles of the thighs. Take the correct standing position but with the balls of the feet about seven inches apart and the heels almost touching. Place the hands firmly on the hips, then, slowly rising to the balls of the feet, lower the body until the backs of the thighs rest on the calves of the legs. Rise slowly and repeat ten times.

Support Body Weight

If you have trouble letting yourself go, fearing that you will lose your balance and tumble over, support the weight of your body by grasping some stable object like the foot of the bed, then let the body down into the squatting position outlined. After doing this a few times you will become familiar with the required action and with undo standing comes confidence and then you can do it without further aid.

Exercise 3—Stand erect with the torso drawn to its full height and the hands resting lightly on the hips. Heels about two inches apart and toes pointing straight ahead. Inhale while slowly raising the right leg until it is extended straight out in front of the body on a level with the hip socket. Exhale while lowering the leg and inhale while extending the left one. Keep the toes pointing straight out, too, as the leg is extended.

Repeat Routine

Exercise 4 — Keeping the same standing position, swing the right leg out to the side and as far back as you can, keeping the left heel flat on the floor. Repeat with the left leg. Kick back each leg ten times then see how far back you can swing each leg by raising up to the ball of the other foot. Alternate until this routine has been gone through ten times with each leg.

Resembling the familiar electric fire a gasoline room heater has been invented having a reflector that can be turned at any angle to direct the heat in a desired direction.

All the leaders had close calls in the second Sunday School loop games last evening but managed to edge through with victories after hard fought contests Lee Street the undefeated league leader had a close 4 to 3 call with Forest Lawn while Wesley stayed in game behind by just batting United Brethren in a seventh inning rally 3 to 2 Reformed managed to blow a six run lead against the Christians and the Amick nine nosed in with a 10-9 triumph Presbyterians got the only decisive victory when they walloped St Paul 11 to 7

The Lee Street Forest Lawn clash which was billed as the feature game of the evening fulfilled all expectations although the streeters scrambled headed for a fairly easy conquest up to the final inning They were leading 4 to 1 as the seventh got under way But before it was over Converse and Hill had plated and the tying run was on base Kellogg's stick out however ended the game and whatever hopes Forest Lawn had for the league championship at the same time Kellogg whiffed nine while Pelley was setting down a quartet of Forest Lawn batters by the strike out route

U B Almost Wins

United Brethern gave Wesley the scare of its life and only lost the game by blowing up in the final frame after leading all the way 2 to 1 Dutch Zuspan was given a two run lead in the second and blanked Wesley until the fifth when Trowbridge plated the first run The sixth was unproductive of scoring and Zuspan seemed headed for a great victory Johnny Cook won his own game with a hit with two mates aboard This Mr Cook has a habit of doing this kind of thing and Wesley can thank him that they're still in the race at least until Wednesday night about 8 o clock

First Reformed had Central Christians beaten 8 to 2 at the start of the fifth inning but the latter scored four times in the fifth and three in the sixth to tie the game at 9 all and then score one more in the seventh to win 10 to 9 The losers staged a five run rally off Amick in the third which coupled with one in the first and two in the fourth gave them a comfortable lead However they couldn't stand prosperity and as a result are still in a three way tie for last place with one game won in six played

Presbyterians tied Forest Lawn for fourth place by a clean cut 11 to 7 win over St Paul The winners scored all their runs in the first four innings nine coming in the first four in the second and the 11th in the fourth Everybody scored at least once in either the first or second frames The losers collected five of their runs in a sixth inning splurge

Epworth Juniors sank to a tie for last place with Lutherans defeating them 6 to 4 in a postponed No 1 league game last evening Each team had one big inning in addition to a one run rally but the Lutherans managed to slide four men across while the Juniors were edging three in Lutheran's big frame was the fourth when Snyder Schwemley R Atkinson and Siefert plated Schwemley won the game in the next inning when he hit for the circuit The losers tallied three in the sixth when Gram Henry and Mautz scored Grama hitting featured the Epworth first sacker getting three out of four

SPORT RAMBLINGS

BY BOB ELLIOTT

SOME of the No 2 Sunday school league leaders had mighty close calls last evening in their classes with supposedly easy opponents which in the long run is what makes baseball so popular a sport in Marion Nobody's a cinch to win out of those games until the last man's out We were lucky last evening and managed to pick all four winners but if we can hit two out of the four tonight we'll be mighty lucky Jobs and games are the toughest to pick so far this season but we'll make a stab Well take Epworth No 1 over Epworth Juniors Epworth Seniors over St Marys Calvary over Christians and Trinity over the Lutherans

Don't forget the annual benefit game scheduled for Wednesday evening July 9 between Lee street and Calvary the two probable church league winners at the present date of writing Calvary seems to be an almost prohibitive favorite to win but the strong second loop team will have something to say about that They call Lee Street the luckiest ball team in town Maybe they are but they sure win ball games and don't bet too much on Number and company

THUSE lightweight matches are getting to be nothing short of jokes with the latest fooling match flung rung up last night in Philadelphia where George Godfrey lost to Primo Carnera the giant Italian on a foul in the fifth round It was almost a repetition of the Sharkey-Schmeling fight with the winning climaxing fight with the winning fighter doing the fouling and the losing scrapper being framed Godfrey however can't use Schmeling's alibi Carnera took a terrible beating from George and took it without any damage and any man that can do that is just about slated for the exalted position now held by Jack Sharkey

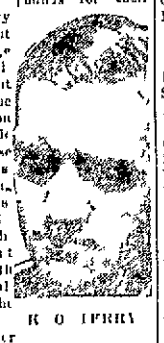
Terry, McMurty in Good Condition for Thursday Fight

K. O. LOOKED FOR IN MAIN BOUT OF NEXT STEAM SHOVEL SHOW

32 Rounds Slated for Local Fans at Shovel Gym, Comedy Bout Carded

All the fighters that are scheduled to appear on the Steam Shovels 32-round card Thursday night at the Shovel gymnasium will arrive in Marion early Thursday morning and will be weighed in before the boxing commission that afternoon Three of the boys are from Cincinnati while two hail from Portsmouth

The main go featherweight pushers K O Terry of Portsmouth and Jesse McMurty of Cincinnati are expected to scale about 126 pounds for their fight with Terry having a slight weight advantage if any The trio slated light weight champion is in the pink of condition according to Judge Eastman in whose stable he fights and Jude is going to be a very disappointed gentleman if the youthful K O doesn't come through with one of his specialties for which he is named



K O TERRY

On the other hand McMurty doesn't feel so bad himself and is pointed towards a goal that other lightweight has succeeded in doing during Terry's short but successful career that is putting the Portsmouth battler down for the count Terry in 27 fights has only one KO on his record which is a 10 round draw with Jose Gonzalez the lightweight champion of Mexico This latter is more of an accomplishment than blot however and only goes to illustrate that this Mr Terry is going some place in the boxing world

It should be a great scrap that these boys will stage Thursday night and it looks like the odds will be against the bout going the full route of 10 rounds Both want a knock out to add to their already impressive records and its odds on that such will be the case

The eight round semi final between Jimmie Rodgers of Huntington and Buddy Hill of Cincinnati at 130 pounds is another that may produce a knockout before the eight rounds are completed Both boys have fairly good records and have beaten some good men in their class

The first semi final bout between George Butler of Portsmouth and Terry O'Toole of Cincinnati will go six rounds These boys are the heaviest of the entire card being expected to weigh in at around 150 pounds These two have never met before but Promoter Biesman vouches for the ability of both to get in and slug with both hands

A four round bout between two boys at 118 pounds and a curtain raiser in the form of a colored comedy bout between Thunder and Lightning will open the show

DOCTOR AND COWBOY IN FEATURE BOUT OF STEAM SHOVEL CARD

"Dude" Chick, and Former Big Ten Champ Meet in Main Go

Marion wrestling fans again will be offered a mat card with speed and excitement as the keynote when the Steam Shovel Athletic association throws Dr Ralph Wilson and Dude Chick into the ring tonight

Every athletic has an interesting story to tell Chick tells his well having had much practice The Dude hails from Texas where his pet boyhood diversion was throwing bulls In other words he was a cowboy He later joined a circus and appeared with a wild west outfit as a rider

While a member of the circus troup Chick decided to take on one of the side show wrestlers He used the same tactics that won him fame on the southwestern ranges as a master of steers and he won that first bout Since then he has been treating human beings like cattle especially in the ring He comes to Marion as one of the roughest wrestlers from the state of Texas

In Dr Wilson the fans will find an entirely different type Wilson at one time held the collegiate wrestling title of the Western conference He is a graduate of the University of Indiana and has just completed his internship in an Indiana hospital

Although the modern style of wrestling demands roughness Wilson plays the game in clean cut fashion He relies on speed rather than brutality to come to the front

Wilson has furnished local fans with some of their most exciting matches He insists on doing the unexpected and will go to any limits to win

The semi final brings together the Canadian George Hills and George Butler Hills wrestled Jim Drake here last week while Butler will be making his last appearance in the local ring This battle of the Georges holds promises of being plenty rough

A 2 minutes preliminary also has been scheduled It will be Ladies night with all women accompanied by an escort being admitted free Summer prices will go into effect at the match tonight

JUST ANOTHER FOUL AS NEGRO IS LOSER TO VAST VENETIAN

BY EDWARD J NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA, June 24—Another foul caused a stir today about heavyweight prize fighting

This time it was George Godfrey the giant Negro or Lorraine Pa who committed the foul this time the fallen gladiator writhing in anguish on the floor of the battle pit was Primo Carnera the Italian colossus and again the faithful came to see a fight booed and roared and shouted for the —and went home talking to themselves

The battle of the behemoths the two largest men ever to face each other in a ring missed duplication the farcical ending of Jack Sharkey's duel with Max Schmeling for the heavyweight crown by less than two minutes Whereas Sharkey fouled his man in the last few seconds of the fourth round Godfrey struggled past the first minute of the fifth before he drove an apparently incapacitating left hook into Carnera's groin

From that second on however the situation looked exactly like the run of the stamp ending that has been registered on three out of four of the last important heavyweight struggles Carnera writhed and moaned in the manner of all fouled fighters finally was eased from his agony by merciful unconsciousness and was dragged out of the ring winner on a foul

Last night almost 40 000 customers and close to $200 000 for the bout that was billed as the real test of Carnera as a fighting man His famous build against ninth and tenth rate opponents in a tour throughout the country was ended The charges of fake in his fight with the negro Leon Chevalier in Oakland Cal were to be forgotten in the glory of a huge but genuine fighting man overcoming his first real opposition

But unfortunately for boxing it failed to turn out that way Godfrey contributing an even 240 pounds to the quarter of a ton of struggling humanity in the National League ball park belted the lost Venetian dizzy in the first round sagged him solidly in the second vassel up in the third and went ahead again in the fourth Carnera showed genuine ability to balance his 260 pounds on his amazing feet despite the leather that bounced freely off his chin and buried deep in his body He was fast on his feet for such a tremendous fellow He was cool but he damaged the negro giant but little

Godfrey was heavily firing balls when he let loose a low left hook after one minute 13 seconds of the fifth

While the crowd booed and jeered at fake rolled down the ringside critics up close were mixed in their opinions Several believed that the match had been rolled over before it was put on Others could see nothing wrong Dr J Wells Vaughn of the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission said Carnera had been fouled and incapacitated Referee Tommy Riley who was the third man in the ring when Godfrey fouled Carnera won the heavyweight title from Jack Dempsey called the foul without hesitation Frank Wiener chairman of the athletic commission said there would be an investigation before the fighters were paid It was reported that Carnera was to receive 60 per cent of the gate receipts Godfrey $10 000 flat although it seemed to be some doubt as to what would pay the negro

There was no question as to the following Early in the fifth round Godfrey who had been punching short but with increasing lack of power to the body as the fight wore on suddenly loosed a long left hook that looked from the start all the way to the point of contact Carnera recoiled remained and then collapsed his huge body shaking the reinforced ring as landed
